As an understanding and a cheerful teacher, adviser, and friend, she has helped students come to a better understanding of themselves and has encouraged them to seek deeper values and purposes in life.

Even though she has transferred to another school this year, we, the yearbook staff, and student body wish to express our thanks to her for her tremendous work on last year's book. In respect, admiration, and gratitude for her, we wish to dedicate this 1967-68 edition of the Amherst Annual to Mrs. Liburdi, formerly, Miss Babuin.

STUDENT POWER AND THE AMHERST REVOLUTION

This title, were it found on the front page of a newspaper, would most certainly evoke great interest and, perhaps, even considerable alarm in most adult readers. One can almost hear them: "What are our schools coming to? What have those Irresponsible Teenagers done now?"

Rest assured! - "Keep your cool!!" In the humble opinion of this writer, those "ITs" have shown commendable maturity and sense of responsibility and the "revolution" has been a peaceful rather slow - but most decidedly desirable change in school policies and student attitudes.

An old maxim, which is still completely true, tells us that "with privilege goes responsibility". Grade 13 prefects have been given certain responsibilities and duties having to do with the management and smooth operation of the school. Quite often an absent teacher is replaced by a grade 13 student who may simply "preside" or who may do some teaching. At most social functions a group of prefects have been most helpful in assisting teachers.

Most recently the graduating class in Science, Technology and Trades expressed a wish to be granted prefect duties with privileges to be worked out later. Please read that last sentence again - the sequence IS correct - these students offered their services first without any conditions as to privileges.

Let's be completely honest! Most older folks and some younger ones predicted dire results from any such experiment. "Young people would" they said "accept and abuse these privileges and would not accept any responsibilities in return. Marks would drop, conduct would deteriorate. It just would not work!"

For the great majority, however, these pessimistic prophecies proved to be quite wrong. While marks have not soared "sky high" they most certainly have not plummeted to dark depths. Hats off to our graduating classes of 1968!

Reg. A. Cozens.

Principal's Aides

Mr. Gibb

*This year Mr. Cozen's aides
For him a lot easier have made
The strenuous task of guiding the school,
It seems this year, as a rule,
That Mr. Wilson and Mr. Gibb were pretty cool.
With Mr. Wilson as Vice-Principal this year,
And Mr. Gibb as Assistant here,
We'd like to take the time to say
That we'd like to thank them, if we may
For guiding us onto a brighter day.*

Mr. Wilson

Office Staff

Miss Craig and Mrs. Nobel form almost half,
Of this year's Amherst office staff;
We'd like to thank all five very much,
Jim Goulin and Mrs. Pettypiece's magic touch,
Miss Yakopich, we feel we must
Thank them all, for it's only just.

Editor's Message

It is a privilege and a great honour for me to be the editor of the Amherst Annual for the year 1967-68, and I may say that it has been a very rewarding experience.

To the right you will find the students and teachers who tell the story of one year's activities of your lives as students at Amherst. We find that this is well covered by all our "Stars" and it is hoped that none will be offended either because a picture did appear or did not appear.

I am happy to have this occasion to thank the members of the faculty and all the hard-working members of the staff for co-operating with me and making my work agreeable. Special thanks go to Mr. Tighe for unselfishly giving so much of his time to help us; to Mr. Wickens for making it possible for us to get such good results in our advertising; to Mr. Lenardon, for controlling our finances and to Miss Thorburn and Mr. Price for aiding us in time of need, as well as many others without whose help and support this book would never have been possible.

This book is put out to provide enjoyment for everyone now, and in later years. I hope that when you look at this book it will tell the story that you remember so well of General Amherst '67-'68.

Grade Thirteen's Progress

Two years ago a "grade 13 experiment" was initiated. Rather extensive privileges were granted to grade 13 students in the matter of attendance at classes and freedom of movement about the school. The goal was to provide a year which would be intermediate between traditional secondary school and university patterns. During the current year, the "experiment" has been extended by offering all grade 13 students the status of a "prefect". A prefects' room has been provided where additional privileges are permissible. Not long ago it would have been inconceivable to think of a secondary school student spending his mid morning "spare" sipping coffee, guzzling coke, playing euchre or ping-pong or just "yakking" to his pals with a background of popular music. People as old as this writer even remember "away back when" such activities were not expected even of teachers!!!

Examinations - what are they? The 1967-68 school year has witnessed a radical change in the emphasis on and value assigned to examinations. All across Ontario steps have been taken to evaluate pupils' school work by other means than the final examination. In three short years we have witnessed a complete change at the grade 13 level. Whereas in 1965 one passed or failed on the June departmental examinations which were both set and marked externally; in 1968 one may pass all grade 13 subjects without writing any exams or may elect to write exams which will be both set and marked by the teacher who has taught the subject.

Since wide latitude has been given to schools in deciding how marks shall be determined, there is considerable variation across the province. Before General Amherst policy was decided, the matter was studied for several months by the teacher who sought grade thirteen opinion in class and during a half-day symposium. For 1967-68 in all grades at General Amherst, class work will count for 40% and the two terms and exams for 60%. Likewise second term marks carry more weight than first term marks. To be recommended without writing final exams one must have averaged over 65% in grade 13, over 69% in grades 11 and 12, and over 74% in grades 9 and 10.

Exchange Student

Throughout the past school year Amherst has been honoured by many distinguished guests, but their presence was not as warmly felt as that of Rosie Gomez.

Rosie, the daughter of an insurance agent came to us through the International Exchange of Students in Mexico. We were just lucky to have her here for she did not specify where in Canada she would like to go.

During her stay she had her first encounter with snow, and the snow was the only thing she liked about our weather. Her favourite point about Canada was, and I quote "the people, the people, and the people. They are very kind, friendly, hospitable and nice. Friends, family and well, people was what I liked the most."

The people of 11A-2 were proud to have her. We hope to receive new exchange students in the future.

Senior Basketball

Even though our senior boys lost the S. W. O. S. S. A. championship this year, all of us are very proud of their terrific effort.

The standings were so close that they had to play a two game total point play-off against Leamington.

The team is grateful to Mr. St. Pierre who has coached many of the boys all through high school for his guidance and to the spectators for their support.

Junior Basketball

Amherst has a lot to be proud of this year. Our junior boys won the Essex County Championship!!!and...the S. W. O. S. S. A. !!!

The first was attained by defeating North Essex in the finals and the second championship was arrived at by playing a two game total point series which they won against Wallaceburg.

Hats off to our team and to their exceptional coach, Mr. Pringle, for their outstanding performance.

Yeah Amherst!

This year's Volleyball Team was one of the best Amherst has ever known. The games were often exciting and breath-taking, especially those played against our old rivals, Leamington.

The team suffered a heart-breaking loss in the E. C. S. S. A. final play-off game which was a see-saw affair in which our Amherst senior boys were ousted by Leamington. It was the deciding game of the best-of-three being a hair-raising 19-17 thriller. This put out Amherst's hopes of playing in S. W. O. S. S. A. and then possibly O. F. S. S. A. Windsor no doubt, was somewhat relieved at our loss as our boys had disposed of Massey and Brennan, the top two Windsor teams, in a rather easy fashion.

Nevertheless, it was a fine rewarding year for all. The team is in great debt to Mr. LaRocque, their coach, who did a fantastic job in creating the team's great desire and spirit, physical and mental fitness, and the timing and precision the team displayed so well all season.

Soccer

Again this year Amherst was very well represented by its soccer team. They carried out General Amherst's reputation by once again capturing the title of S. W. O. S. S. A Champs by defeating Ridgetown in a two-game total goal series. Their earnest effort against the snow and mud while in Ridgetown accompanied by a cold wind, was rewarded when the trophy was presented to Amherst.

Joe Capaldi and Tom DiBartolomeo were co-captains this year and would like to thank their coach Mr. Bouteiller for his successful guidance. The team would also like to express their appreciation to this same great guy.

Congratulations go to the team and are also in order for Albert D'Alimonte, leading goal-scorer and top point-getter Tom Hurst.

After finishing first in division play, the Amherst Generals met Essex at Amherst to contest the E.C.S.S.A. FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP. The game was played in soddening downpour which transformed the field into knee-deep bog. The weather, however, did not dampen the enthusiasm on either side and the game was one of the most heavily attended this year. Although the Generals led half the game and fought to the muddy end, Amherst finally succumbed to Essex, six to one.

Some of this year's seniors will no doubt be graduating and be going to another school, but, the coaches are confident that there are some promising players to fill the vacancies, so let's be prepared to encourage our teams from the sidelines with plenty of good, old, school spirit.

This year, a Gym Club was organized for the boys under the direction of Mr. Bouteiller. This club enables the boys who are interested in gymnastics to perfect their skills on the trampoline, parallel bars, horse and the mats.

Congratulations to the whole team on their tremendous effort. We hope that next year's team will do as well as they did. Special thanks are extended to Mr. Bouteiller.

Seven Records shattered at General Amherst

General Amherst District High School students were at their athletic best when the school track and field meet was held.

Competition was keen in all divisions and led to seven new records being established. Record breakers were Lucy Bresolin, Christie Anne Rawlings, Ruth Golden, Cathy Badiuk, Suzanne Lavergne, Gino Conte and Mike Stacyszyn.

Barry McCurdy was the individual standout. He won eight first-place ribbons while on his way to the senior championship.

Other champions were Rita Budiak, Christie Anne Rawlings, Cathy Badiuk, Gary Deline, and Mike Stacyszyn.

"WE SHALL NEVER BE DEFEATED"

Coach - Mrs. L. Halpin

In the uphill struggle of our senior girls, out of nine games played they lost once to Essex and twice to Leamington, thus ending, in a three way tie for first place. Then our girls shone by playing sudden death games against Essex and Leamington to win the E. C. S. S. A. Championship.

These hard-workers then defeated Chatham Kent S. S. Champs in Chatham in a home and home series to capture the S. W. O. S. S. A. "A. A." title for General Amherst.

As representatives of our school, Essex, in the S. W. O. S. S. A. "A. A." Tournament, Massey, Commerce and the Pines were in competition with us. Our girls defeated the Pines, but lost a close game to Massey and as a result, we were unsuccessful in our attempt to capture another title.

Our thanks go to our wonderful coach, Mrs. L. Halpin.

Junior Basketball

"COME ON AMHERST! SKIN 'EM ALIVE!"

Coaches - Miss Greenwood
- Mrs. Goldman

That's exactly what these girls did. Once more our junior girls have a record worth bragging about. After playing nine games, there were no losses recorded; inevitably capturing E. C. S. S. A. title for our school. The team then went on to greater things.

Upon defeating Tecumseh Secondary School in a home and home series, our girls captured the S. W. O. S. S. A. championship for the third consecutive year.

Special thanks are extended to Mrs. Goldman and Miss Greenwood from the school.

"WE'VE GOT THE T-E-A-M"

Our senior girls played Essex, Belle River, Kingsville and St. Anne's. However, they lost two tournaments to Leamington thus putting our girls in second place in the E. C. S. S. A. competition.

The girls would like to thank Mrs. Telagadas for her time and patience. Although these girls did not capture the E. C. S. S. A. title, they did set a goal for next year's seniors to reach and perhaps overcome!

Juniors

After playing against Leamington, Essex, Belle River, St. Anne's and Kingsville, our girls returned with a remarkably clean record of no losses, thus securing for Amherst the E. C. S. S. A. championship.

They went on to compete in the S. W. O. S. S. A. tournament held at Massey Collegiate in Windsor. In the games which they played against Windsor Commerce and the Kent County Champions, our girls remained undefeated. However, they were unable to defeat Kennedy, thus putting us in second place.

The girls wish to extend their thanks to their coach, Mrs. Telagadas who, in turn, congratulates the team on their success.

Truly Amherst can be proud of these hard-working champs!

CHAMPIONS... The Girls' Gymnastic Team of General Amherst High recently won the South Western Ontario Secondary Schools' Association Gymnastic Championship. This is the first team the school has had in this competition.

ROW TWO: D. Ferguson, W. Brush, S. Nelson, L. Homolka. ROW ONE: L. Ross, Individual Champ; R. Bondy, Mrs. James Halpin, Coach; C. Nedin, I. Hansen. REAR: P. Lavergne, Manager.

This year, a Gym Club was organized under the direction of Mrs. L. Halpin. Just as the Boys' Gym Club, this team enables the girls who are interested in gymnastics to perfect their skills on the trampoline, parallel bars, horse, and the mats. Many things which look hard to the outsider become easy.

The General Amherst girls recently won the South Western Ontario Secondary Schools' Gymnastic Championship. This is the first team the school has had in this competition. Perhaps there is a future Olympic Champion among any one of the club members.

This club was made a success through the team's enthusiasm and through the fine training and excellent coaching and time that Mrs. Halpin volunteered in order to help these girls to learn more about gymnastics.

Mr. Bernard Newman, M. P. P., is shown here presenting the trophies to winners of the recent Gymnastic Meet held at General Amherst High School. Left to Right: Mr. Newman, Inge Hansen, Lynda Ross, Mrs. J. Halpin, Gymnastic Coach of Girls' Team General Amherst and Karen Nedin.

AMHERST

This year's Cheerleading Squads have been very successful in helping to boost more school spirit this past year. The squads were led by their two Captains, Doreen Adam and Mary Menna.

Throughout the various sports' seasons, our cheerleaders have given moral support to the teams. We enjoyed this very much because most games turned into victories.

History Club

Most appropriately in the midst of the everyday activities came the annual United Nations' Day Assembly which was presented by the History Club.

The first item was a skit entitled "U.N. Security Council - 21st Century" with folk songs from various countries.

Coloured slides of scenes at United Nations' Headquarters were shown while the various parts of U.N. organizations and non-political agencies were described by senior students.

Miss Raji Iyer, the guest speaker, from Bombay India, captivated our students while she told of Indian customs, religion, and education.

Members of the club went on a trip to the Detroit Historical Museum and the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto is on the agenda for a trip in May.

The enthusiasm of the club, resulted in the gay decorations in the cafeteria for our annual Christmas dinner and also resulted in the good success of this worthy club.

The executives of the club were: President - Jim Langlois, Secretary - Wendy Gignac, and Treasurer - Pat Ferguson assisted by the History Department Head - Mr. Ellenberger. All programs were chaired by Doug Drouillard.

The Key Club has again left a year behind that the school can be proud of. They sponsored their annual Key Club Dance and again arranged their annual Bob-Lo Day held June 18th.

This year they also checked coats at our computer and various other dances. They also sponsored a car wash.

They were fortunate enough to send representatives to the Ottawa District Convention.

John Ellis was President; David White was Vice-President; Dan Deslippe was secretary; Dave Cozens was Treasurer; and the Sergeant at Arms was Richard Metcalfe.

They were again very privileged of having Mr. Ellenberger for their Staff Adviser.

Thanks go out to Mr. Ellenberger and to all the enthusiastic members.

School Spirit Club

Making posters! getting dressed up in black and gold! practicing how to play the flute! (so they say), cheering! that is what the School Spirit Club was all about.

Ask Paul Pietrangelo, our leader, ask anyone of our vibrant participaters, ask teachers, students, anyone.

The only thing that we can do now is start a little earlier next year and really get things going.

Thank you to all supporters. See you next year.

When you join the Referees' Club, you entail a great deal of responsibility. Your duty is to judge whether a play is right or wrong. This can be unpleasant if the person making a foul, just happens to be one of your friends.

A lot of credit is due to these just and brave souls, and just as much is recognized for those good sports who accept their penalty.

All the girls would like to thank Clida Foreman, their President and would also like to let everyone know just how much fun they've had during the past year.

Music Club

Although the Music Club was not extremely active this year, their performance during the Public Speaking (Contest) intermission was well appreciated. Directed by Miss Decarie, they presented a variety of popular folk songs to entertain the audience.

The members of this club should know that their vocal efforts were not in vain.

ROW THREE: L. Lalonge, C. Squires, B. Cozens, L. McBride, T. Brown, J. Clancy, G. Lemcke, G. McLaren, R. Renaud, E. Litster, S. Stone, G. Rovere, Mr. Deneau. ROW TWO: C. Hinch, D. Lindsay, C. This year's Library Club has certainly accomplished the unique challenge of last year's club. The club has worked hard this year in putting the many new books on the shelf, repairing old ones, checking out books and sending overdue reminders to that forgetful student.

The installment of private study carrels, large working tables plus the two seminar rooms have proved to be a great success to everyone.

Awards were presented to the most industrious boy and girl in the club for the second consecutive year. They were won by Eric Litster and Peggy Browning. These were presented by Mr. Deneau.

This year's executive consisted of Cathy Langlois, President; Sharon Moore-Gough, Vice-President; Irene Kwasnicki, Secretary; and Richard Mittag, Treasurer.

The General Amherst Library Club and the entire student body would like to express their thanks to Mr. Deneau who took charge in maintaining our new library and showing our members so much about library work.

Cadets

The corps had been inactive for the past two years because of over-crowding at the school and was reinstituted this year on a considerable smaller basis than formerly. Training was offered to all grade 9 boys and to other boys of senior grades on an optional basis to fill the officer and NCO positions. Judged the best officer on parade was Cadet Major Dennis Jones, 21/C of the battalion while Jim Robertson was the best cadet.

Major W. J. R. Harris, C. C., 21/C, of the Windsor Regiment took the salute and was assisted in the inspection by Captain J. A. Carson, R. C. R., of London Headquarters. Chief Cadet Instructor Major A. E. Roberts, C. D., was assisted by the following assistant instructors: Captain G. St. Pierre, Lt. M. McGill, Messrs. S. Janisse, R. Whiteley, G. Holmes, G. Robinson, R. Litster, T. S. Hunt and K. Johnson.

Congratulations to a sensational group.

Cadet Lt. Col. Harold Kwasnicki, was the capable commanding officer of #202 General Amherst High School Cadet Corps for their annual inspection.

Outstanding Students

Margaret
Shepley

Brenda
White

Two or three grade 12 students are sent each year from General Amherst to attend the Annual United Nations Seminar conducted at Huron College of the University of Western Ontario. This year from June 24-27 General Amherst will be represented by Brenda White and Margaret Shepley. Because of the difficulty in naming one or two students who may be rated as the most worthy from a fairly large class, school policy is to ask a committee of teachers to nominate worthy students from each of the grade 12 classes. From the seven girls so nominated, Brenda and Margaret were selected by lot to be the "lucky ones".

Maureen
Sellars

Paul
Kasurak

General Amherst has been accorded the privilege of sending two outstanding grade 11 students for a ten-day visit to Sackville, New Brunswick on what is known as the "Federal-Provincial Young Voyageur Programme", a continuation of a similar programme which was initiated a few years ago and which reached a peak attendance during Centennial Year.

Paul Kasurak and Maureen Sellars will join some 22 others from Essex County to make a party of 24 departing from Windsor on July 2 and returning on July 12. A similar group from Winnipeg, Manitoba will visit Windsor during the period of July 31 - August 7. Maureen and Paul must certainly be complimented for their great effort.

Selected as an outstanding boy in grade 12 at General Amherst to participate in the Annual Rotary Club "Adventure in Citizenship" in Ottawa was Mario DiDomenico. Mario, with four others from Essex County, left by Air Canada Sunday, May 12, for a four day adventure in the nation's capital. He and some 200 others from all over Canada will learn more about our country and about each other during their stay. Students are billeted with Ottawa's citizens and hosted by the Ottawa Rotary Club. After his return, Mario and his parents will be guests of the Amherstburg Rotary Club at some future meeting when he will give a brief report to the Club on his adventure.

The appointment of student prefects with both duties and responsibilities to assist in school administration is relatively new at General Amherst. Much of the initial success of the plan may be credited to the efforts of these two young men who have acted as most capable leaders. Next year's prefects' council will have quite a challenge to surpass this year's great workings, and plannings. Congratulations to Doug and Jim for the success of the prefects' new chores.

Unicef

Antoinette DeThomasis led the capable executive made up of Carolyn Sheprak, Cathy Spencler, Lorelee Lalonge, Joan Beneteau toward the raising of over $1600 for the needs and self help of children throughout the world. Grade 13A won the hot pizza for raising the most per student in the school canvas; however, all the many students participating, including those who diligently covered the communities of Amherstburg, Anderdon, Malden and some of Sandwich West, deserve the "thank you" of the children of the far east -- hands palm to palm, before a bowed head -- and the gratitude of all young people who will be benefitted by the generosity and thoughtfulness of the students and citizens of the General Amherst High School area.

The local members devised a number of novel methods for raising funds. Slave days, auction sales, shoe shines, car washes, noon hour dances, candy sales were but a few of the means adopted by various classes of the hard-workers.

The students were determined to exceed their contribution of the year before and they can certainly be complimented for their fine success.

Stunts such as the sale of candy apples, a gift box guessing game and a staff student basketball game were brought out by the grade 11 business and commerce students.

DOMES OF SAINT PATRICK'S

This year the Grade 12 students had their annual spring trip to New York in May. For the fifth consecutive year students saw a great variety of interesting and educational places. The main points of interest were Radio City Music Hall and the NBC T. V. station. At the Radio City they saw the show featuring the Rockettes.

On their tour of Upper and Lower Manhattan they went through Chinatown and the Bowery as well as the Harlem district. They also toured the Lincoln Centre, the United Nations and the Hayden Planetarium and Museum.

The ninety students and their chaperones were a tired but happy group on their arrival home on that Saturday morning last May.

Many themes are constantly being used, but I'm always amazed at the new and original theme that some very imaginative person is able to find such as this year's theme--- "two lips at midnight."

Shuddering at the thought of saying in typical yearbook fashion, "and fun was had by all" or "it was indeed a very successful evening", I will endeavour to give just the plain truth.

Evidence of festivity was reflected in the colourful decorations of the Dutch setting and in the happy faces of the group present.

Our host of chaperones? or just teachers who enjoy having a good time, were numerous.

Needless to say the prom could not have been a success without the crowning of the queen and her court. Senior members of the court were Mary Margaret Mailloux and Gayle Rashid, while Theresa Bezaire and Michelle Robinet were junior members. Congratulations are due to our 1967-68 queen Pam Rashid.

Literary

Poetry, The Servant

When I feel so tired and downbeaten as can be,
Poetry comes along and saves the day for me.
When I am distraught or shaken,
Poetry helps me not to be mistaken.

When a Latin test causes me to fret,
As I write, I can realize the debt
That I owe dearest poetry
As a faithful servant to me.

My nerves are calmed and become steady.
No longer am I confused or heady.
Despite the worst I find the best.
Poetry backs me for any test.

No longer do I tremble or shake,
For now a poem I simply make.
This book is filled with poems
Whose amounts through the years have grown.

I feel that poetry affords so much
To the average person or the likes of such.
Spare time is the time for me,
Time to sit and write poetry.

TERRY BROUGHTON

Teenagers Poem

You feel tired and dragged out
And of iniquities you shout.
But all that shouting does no good
As patient understanding would.

The "misunderstood" race,
Constantly out of grace,
But do we really try
To tell others the reason why?

Are we misunderstood or misunderstanding,
Totally rejected or too demanding?
We must really look deep inside
And never our true feelings hide.

What a tragedy to see
This conflict 'tween them, you and me.
We must remedy this situation
That prevails throughout this nation.

TERRY BROUGHTON

Hysteria

They call in a vacuum, the vacuum of silence.
They call to find themselves.
Themselves?
The fools they aren't themselves.
How can they find something this is nothing?
Frantically, they hurry and scurry:
In, out,
Up, down,
They run like chickens
With their heads cut off.

What are they doing, the insane fools?
Where are they going?
Hurry, scurry, in, out, up, down.
Crazy people!
Yeah!

Everyone is everybody else;
Nobody is somebody;
In an inexplicable way they're all the same:
Mimicking!
Why don't you stop, crazy people?

TERRY BROUGHTON

Back Again

I've tread just about all the lonely halls
There are, walking between those silent walls.
I've seen all the old places and some new.
Faces and places I know are but few.

It's no longer the school that I, at one time, went to
And these people are not the ones I remember who Enjoyed the lark, that all-too-fast lark, here.
Nearly everything has changed, I fear.

Thus goes each year: leaving, never returning,
But somewhere you're feeling a strange, new yearning.
To return and relive a year that has passed,
One very good year that went by just too fast.

Laugh if you wish but one thing I know:
You feel it even if it doesn't show.
"They" are fleeting memories of a good year,
A year in the past, a year that you spent here.

TERRY BROUGHTON

Amherst

You ought to come to see our school
Our "square" teachers are pretty cool
You feel like you're watchin' a movie.
These cats are pretty groovy.

And with a club of every kind
There's one to suit you, you'll find
Basketball, football, join a team
Amherst clubs hold the highest esteem.

Enjoy drama?
Well you're in no trauma
With three plays a year
You'll feel welcome here.

One swinger, Mr. Cozens, top man,
He's always lending a helping hand
So if you wanna belong to a school that's first
In all of the nation, C'mon: Amherst.

DAN ROEHLER

C'est l'école

School to some is such a bore,
A stupid thing, a useless chore.
Others think that it is labour low,
(Labour from laboir, laboris you know.)

Some think of Howe, and Hull, and Duff
And of other people both rough and tough.
Others are comics, laughing away,
Losing each and every precious day.

The dumb ones they are.
Their thoughts are afar.
They think of the day when up pops Dad
With ideas for them of a Chev or a Cad!

But then there's the smart ones.
Sure are quick with the sums.
At graduation they're sure to rejoice
Because they'll have the job of their choice.

TERRY BROUGHTON

D-Day and Waiting

Confusion reigns supreme.
No time to sit and dream.
No rationality is viewed here,
As people hurry far and near.

This dread day, day of exams.
No time for the clowning or acting of hams.
One is at his wits' end
As he stops to talk with friends.

Persevere and you'll win the race.
Work hard or you'll win disgrace.
Your utmost effort is needed highly
For objective and other questions wily.

Exams can mean new dread or new joy
To each and every girl and boy.
But effort counts in every way,
For it can surely save the day.

TERRY BROUGHTON

Retards Forever!

We are 12-2, the retards.
We all don't work very hard.
Nobody can say we're lazy
But they sure can say we're crazy.

We are not rejected.
We seldom are elected
For committees or Grade Rep.
Perhaps we're just not hep.

Chemistry is boring, in Algebra we're beat.
The end is coming closer, we can feel the heat.
Finals coming closer, teachers getting mad.
When we flunk our parents will say we've been had.

Aren't we just a sorry lot
For all the teaching we have got.
Crazy people, very extremely simple,
Brains about the size of a little pimple.

We are 12-2, the retards.
We still aren't working very hard.
Perhaps we are not crazy
But plainly, simply lazy.

TERRY BROUGHTON

And The Music Plays

The music on the radio plays,
Bringing back memories of those days
Long since past but still so very clear,
Cherished days, days considered so dear.

But the world does not stop at this,
Even if these, days were perfect bliss.
It travels on toward infinity,
All too serious; no hilarity.

The world snaps back so quickly and now
More time is gone and one wonders how.
And on the radio music plays
In memory of long past days.

TERRY BROUGHTON

Justice

Justice
I demand
Let it not
Be from me banned.
For if there's one thing we all need
Something to which we should all heed
It's justice.

Justice
Give me some
The heart is where
This virtue's from
"Justice" is what many men plea
But the heartless men do not see
It's justice.

Justice
For all men
To the whole world
It should extend
If all but one virtue be forgot
It's what many men have sought,
It's justice.

DAN ROEHLER

Valedictorian

The honour of the valedictory is a very great one, but the task is equally great if not greater. To speak for one's fellows is never easy - however there are certain basic challenges and commitments which we hold in common.

This graduating class has grown up in one of the most favourable climates the world has seen. We have never personally experienced a depression - or a war - or hunger. Some of us may never have seen poverty, let alone been impoverished. The wealth created by our parents is so great that the inheritance of it has created the so-called "generation gap". Yet the future is not all air and brightness, along with the wealth created by technological advance came a problem - the cybernetic revolution. The linkage of computers and machines can either give us material heaven, or dissolve society by destroying the social structure. The last social and economic disaster, the industrial revolution, has not been successfully dealt with to this day. Neither socialism or capitalism has created equality or eliminated poverty in our society. We still have uneducated people, professional collectors of welfare, and the downtrodden poor. Our generation must finish this job and avoid a tragic repetition within our lifetime. Holding the line isn't good enough... we must go ahead and quickly. This is our task.

Secondly, this class will be one of the first which will think, as a whole, in terms of a world community. Famine in India and war in Vietnam and Eastern Europe are much closer through television. It is very easy to be abstract when we hear or read of disaster. It is very hard to ignore someone dying in your living room on T.V. As a result we are more concerned about the world as a whole than our predecessors. But being concerned never solved anything, we must be prepared to sacrifice - no, not sacrifice, to invest some of our great wealth in the world. If we tell the world to "eat cake" as Marie Antoinette told the French peasants, we shall deserve the consequences.

The third challenge facing this generation is radicalism. While all young generations appear radical to the preceding one, this year has seen the power of radicalism at the Sorbonne and at Columbia. To the young, radicalism is in danger of ceasing to exist as a philosophy, and becoming a fashion. In other words people are forgetting to remember that radicalism is neither good nor bad in itself... it is the consequences that count. I believe that this class is wise and skeptical enough to examine the consequences of its acts and will not fall prey to irrational, but fashionable acts. Neither will we flinch from proposing a radical solution when after due thought we think that one is needed. We ask only that those who now hold power do not immediately judge a new and startling idea as bad. God loves radicals too.

Even though the problems facing us are of the most enormous magnitude, I feel that we can meet and resolve them. All the tools are at our fingertips. The foremost of these is our education. We have been taught to think - let us do so wherever it may lead us. Let us remain interested not only in our own problems, but in those of others. This must be done if only for selfish reasons. The problems of others when left to fester will soon become our own.

I am confident that this class will never consider its education complete. We know that the man who ceases to learn shrivels up inside and dies. In a rapidly moving world we cannot afford mental stagnation.

First, we are committed to other people and other peoples. Secondly, we are committed to ourselves in the sense that it is very hard for us to compromise. As others, I am happy to see people taking a courageous stand. Whether good or bad it is us all the same.

In conclusion I would wish to clarify a few of my remarks. I didn't wish to infer that we have a monopoly on good or that we know it all. We are human beings capable of evil as anyone else, and we can be just as stupid. I hope that nothing I have said was taken in this context.

Finally I would ask you to think on this. Some do not agree with the ideas, the ideals, or the moves of this generation. They say that it has gone to the dogs and that corruption and rot have set into society. I will not attempt to refute this, I only say that in twenty years all of us will know if there is truth in this statement..... for in twenty years we shall rule the world.
